

Patinated Stone of a Meditating Girl in Pyrophyllite Stone

As low as $600

In stock

SKU

LU825839286842

Details

This statue depicts a captivating girl sitting in a serene meditation, sculpted from Pyrophyllite Stone. The sculpture is imbued with both gentleness and spiritual significance.

Her two extended dark braids frame her tranquil and content visage and act as a metaphor for the passage of time. Her slightly tilted-up face radiates a sense of quiet amusement and inner peace, evoking feelings of calmness and serenity. The gentle curve of her seated body conveys a sense of wisdom and harmony, inviting contemplation and introspection.

Her hands joined in prayer suggest a mystical connection to an invisible realm, offering solace and protection from the world's tumultuous forces. Her faded and depigmented skin and clothes add depth to her portrayal. Pyrophyllite, the stone from which she is crafted, serves not merely as a material but a conduit for metaphysical properties. It resonates with healing and balance, harmonizing the chakras, cleansing the aura, and promoting physical well-being. Its association with the sacral and solar plexus chakras aids in establishing healthy boundaries, empowering individuals to navigate life with clarity and strength.

with the base the total is 15".

REFERENCE NUMBER: LU825839286842

PERIOD: Late 20th Century

CONDITION: Good

MEASUREMENTS: Height: 11.5" Width: 12" Depth: 12"

COUNT: 1
MATERIAL: Plaster, Stone
COUNTRY OF ORIGIN: United States