Details

This lithograph by French artist Pierre-Henri Jacquot is part of the "Commedia Dell'Arte" series and is titled "Arlequin". Signed "Jacquot" in the lower right, it is numbered 28/150 for the artist's proof and retains its original framing. Pierre Jacquot was born in Nancy in 1929. The art of Pierre Jacquot has a haunting edge of strangeness as if he is looking either from or into a parallel dimension. This made Jacquot the perfect artist to illustrate the ambiguous prophecies of Nostradamus with original lithographs. These lithographs, with their mixture of symbols from astrology and the tarot with human figures and curious onlooking animals, are among Pierre Jacquot's most original and enigmatic works. Pierre Jacquot was active in the group Les Graveurs Lorrains. Pierre Jacquot died in October 2009, in Grenade-sur-Garonne in the South-West of France.
