Details

This unique sculpture by Sy Rosenwasser features a loving and embracing mother and her three children. The artwork sits on a black marble square. Signed and dated 1997.

I took many close-up pictures of the sculpture which show the structure of the bronze with the different colours that you can see only from a close view.

The marble as well has been chosen for its unusual and interesting structure: black with little white spots

Rosenwasser's primary theme is the relationship of basic structure to life forms. Rosenwasser's work may be viewed in many public and private collections including the Hyatt Regency in Hawaii, the Bonaventure Hotel in Los Angeles, the Rolex Company in Mexico City, the Harcourt, Brace, Jovanovich Company and the ZOA in New York City.
