Details

This contemporary urban rectangular red wood wall sculpture signed C.Fultz, showcases an amalgamation of geometric shapes in a seemingly random yet artfully composed manner.

This exuberant wall sculpture features an assortment of shapes including cubes, cylinders, triangular and rectangular prisms, some embellished with smaller attachments. The overall effect is a monochromatic explosion of three-dimensional wooden geometric solids, coming out of the wall. They look like 3D shapes used in school to teach about geometry.

Charles Fultz better known as Chuck is a former celebrity's interior designer who spends his retirement time in creating sculptures. This creation goes beyond the mere arrangement of shapes; it may signifies life's unpredictability. The sculpture serves as a metaphor, symbolizing the beauty found in the intersection of varied shapes and life's diverse encounters.
