

Dancing Sculptures in Resin - A Pair

As low as $1,200

In stock

SKU

LU825833614612

Details

Sculpture is at its most essential, a physical, tactile medium, and need to be touched to be experienced. Handmade resin sculpture is an intricate process that entails the mastery of various skills and techniques.

This pair of dancers, in gun metal patina finish resin, is not just a duo, but a conversation. Two bodies standing up on their respective wooden base, each with their own intricate details, height, singular twists, interstices and curves, ending by energetically coming together to become one, turning the static and the individual in a dynamic couple.

As you let your hands wandering, closed eyes, you can sense fluidity in their movements, brought to life by soft and rounded lines. Every gesture and sweep emits a unique emotion, as if the two dancers were sharing a whispered conversation, inviting the viewer to witness their intimate exchange.

By taking this sculpture home, you aren't just adding a piece of art to your collection; you're also bringing a beautiful reminder of the simple things in life : the power of human connection, synchronised movement, and shared moments.

The tallest one measures 22x 8.13 x 6.13, the shortest one 11.13 x 6.63 x 5.

REFERENCE NUMBER: LU825833614612

PERIOD: Late 20th Century

CONDITION: Excellent

MEASUREMENTS: Height: 22" Width: 8.13" Depth: 6.13"

COUNT: Set of 2

Copyright by Galerie Sommerlath - All
Rights Reserved

MATERIAL: Resin

COUNTRY OF ORIGIN: United States