Details

This mixed-media artwork features a chaotic scene where different characters rush into a frantic race to nowhere. Titled "Fools Rushing in", the collage alludes to the nonsense of modern life. In this absurd competition, some of the fools shove others, one uses a giraffe, and another one grows wings to win over. The technique and media galore emphasise the painting theme. Fur, silver paint, metal paper, and watercolour are joyfully combined to translate the messiness of this life aspect.

The artist signed and wrote the title "Fools Rushing in " in the lower part of the artwork.
