Details

A freestanding hard-edge sculpture in vivid red-painted metal, composed of layered circular and angular cutouts. It features simple, geometric shapes squares, rectangles and circles, arranged in precise and symmetrical compositions. Edges are sharp and defined, with no textural variations, creating a sense of smoothness and precision. This hard edge sculpture embraces a minimalist approach, with a focus on essential forms and a limited color palette.. Unlike some other abstract styles, hard edge sculptures intentionally avoid the appearance of the artist's hand, favoring a detached and impersonal aesthetic
