Details

This oil-on-canvas is a vibrant abstract composition built from bold planes of saturated color. Deep oranges, reds, and ochres dominate the surface, counterbalanced by earthy greens and muted browns, with small passages of brighter yellow and soft gray lending tonal variation. Though entirely non-figurative, the painting carries a sense of warmth and movement, suggesting the flicker of natural elements caught in shifting light.

Again, an artist who is more passionate about his art than fame! He did not sign his work!
