Details

This Mid-Century Modern Glass and Cast Iron table with a triangular shape features a sleek round edge design that is expertly crafted from high-quality cast iron, making it both sturdy and durable. The design of the legs adds a touch of artistic flair and visual interest, with one leg being heavier and fuller than the others, creating a sense of asymmetry. The combination of glass and cast iron creates a stunning contrast, with the transparent glass top allowing the cast iron base to shine through. This table would be beautiful as a centre table in a big entrance.
