

Modern Narrow Textured Plaster Console Table
in the Style of Karl Springer

As low as $750

In stock

SKU

LU825847328572

Details

This wall console is an example of sculptural minimalism; this console table combines architectural form with artistic texture. The rectangular silhouette is covered in a meticulously applied white plaster relief, creating a surface that is both tactile and luminous. Its geometric purity and rhythmic surface pattern evoke the refined sensibility of Karl Springer's and John Dickinson's sculptural furniture of the 1970s.

Perfect as a statement console, entryway piece, or gallery pedestal, this design merges functional simplicity with a bold artistic presence.

Available in black also.

Material: Plaster over wood

Color: Textured white

Style: Mid-Century Modern / Brutalist / Studio Craft

Period: 1970s

Condition: Excellent vintage condition with light wear consistent with age

Display: Ideal as console, sofa table, or art pedestal

REFERENCE NUMBER: LU825847328572

PERIOD: 1990-1999

CONDITION: Good

MEASUREMENTS: Height: 30" Width: 74" Depth: 11.75"

COUNT: 1

MATERIAL: Teak

COUNTRY OF ORIGIN: United States