Details

This occasional cream & coffee colors Zulu Chairs and Table Set by Pacific Green blends authenticity and superior craftsmanship to elevate any interior space. The chairs feature walnut leaf-shaped back and the legs are made of Palm wood .

The chairs are upholstered in A-grade leathers, featuring a cream and coffee two-tone color pattern. The leather stitched details and its binding and plaiting are very sophisticated and unique. The steel structure provides a sturdy foundation, making these chairs suitable as occasional seating.

The side table style complements the chairs design. Binded leather and plaited rope on each of the palm wood legs make this guéridon matchless.

South African art and craft inspired all this incredible work and gave them their name : Zulu. Pacific Green manufacture has designed and manufactured exotic furniture and home accessories for 40 years.

Palm wood is a revolutionary hardwood product developed by Pacific Green from plantation coconut palms.

"We envisioned that the palms – which were typically discarded into landfill after they stopped producing fruit – could be the solution to the destruction of the planet's rain-forests, and so we established the first factory dedicated to the coconut palm. The result: a hardwood substitute from a sustainable source and process. By recycling barren coconut palms, old plantation land was returned to local villages to replant with young fruit-bearing palms and other cash crops thus beginning the lifecycle of land regeneration."
