This ceramic table lamp emits a special warmth and comfort - added value to the aesthetics of any environment - even when unlit. The lamp stands out due to its unique size, whether modern or contemporary, in a bedroom, or lounge. It houses a single bulb, with a simple roundabout knob on/off switch located on the socket. The linen shade complements elegantly the lamp, while its ceramic body boasts a textured, abstract expression that is soft to the touch and features hues of burning browns and fiery oranges. These colours, reminiscent of the molten brilliance found in volcanic lava, interweave with creamier nuances akin to the subtle undulations of magma foam. The lamp sits on a wooden base and is in a good condition, wired for US.
