Details

This artwork, as simple yet sophisticated, showcases the feminine form with dark, rounded lines to highlight the body with delicacy and a background enhanced by more angular lines. The artwork's rhythm creates a sense of timelessness that freezes the model's shape at 3/4 angle, accentuating her beauty without revealing too much. Is she walking? Is she standing, stopped by her thoughts? Is she alone? Her forms are harmonious and soft, and the subject seems to flow in a moment of reverie. Her face will stay mysterious, abundant hair covering her entire head.

Born in 1949, John Kaucher is a mathematician, photographer, and oil painter . He sees the details in details and finds juxtapositions in shadows and objects found walking in the streets of Brooklyn and Southern California.
